DIRIGO.

Death angel has again visited our community. Last Saturday, the 22nd, Dr. J. L. Stapp, an honest and upright citizen was called to the great beyond. He was a victim of bright's disease and had been in ill health for more than a year. He was a believer in magnetic healing. He leaves a wife and several children to mourn their loss.

A number of our farmers have had sheep killed by dogs recently. In each instance when they applied for pay as per the dog law, they were told that they must look to the owners of the dogs for the money. So it is now the sheep owners, instead of the dog owners who are condemning the law the loudest.

Alvin Bennett, Gadberry, was here Tuesday.

Miss "Sissy" Lewis, Fairplay, visited at this place last week.

J. G. Campbell and Venus Royse have formed a partnership and have gone into the log business.

Mr. J. C. Morris, one of the oldest citizens of our community, died on the 24th. He was an honest and upright gentleman in all his dealings. He served his country during the civil war, as a private in Sherman's army. He was a member of the Christian church and had been an Elder of the church at Chestnut Grove for a number of years. He leaves a wife, three children and several grand children and great grand children together, with a host of relatives and friends to mourn their loss. He was buried Friday at the old Morris burying ground near Breeding.
